

November 9, 2021

Changes to Plug-in Electric Vehicle (EV) Program in Utah

The EV Program has been offered since 2017 as part of the Sustainable Transportation and Energy Plan Act (STEP), and is set to expire January 1, 2022. In order to manage the EV Program in compliance with STEP, all Customers applying for incentives must submit their Applications by December 1, 2021 to be eligible for acceptance. Applications will not be accepted after the December 1, 2021 deadline.

Rocky Mountain Power intends to continue similar EV charger incentives through a new program known as the Electric Vehicle Infrastructure Program (EVIP). Regulatory approval of EVIP is anticipated in January 2022, at which point applications will be available again and new incentive offerings will be updated and posted on our website.

If you have questions or need more information, please contact us.